HUNTINGDON, TENNESSEE, FRIDAY SEPTEMBER 23, 1921

$1.50 THE YEAR

WO EX-SERVICE MEN BURIED LAST SUNDAY

Remains of William W. Robinson and Charlie E. Younger Rests in Native Soil

The remains of two Carroll county boys, who made the supreme sacrifice in the Argonne fighting during the month of October, 1918, were laid to rest in native soil last Sunday.

William W. Robinson, who lived with his father in the Fifth district, prior to entering his country's service in the world war, was killed October 5, 1918, at the Argonne. His remains reached here Saturday evening and were carried out to Carter's Chapel Sunday and laid to rest, after appropriate services. Ex-service men acted as pallbearers, and Capt. Gordon Browning conducted the services. After the body was lowered in the earth the bugler blew taps over the grave. A large crowd was present.

Sunday afternoon, the remains of Charlie E. Younger, who enlisted from Atwood, and was killed in the Argonne during the latter part of October, 1918, was laid away at the Pisgah burying ground. Impressive services were held, conducted by Rev. Davis. Appropriate talks were made by Capt. Gordon Browning, G. L. Barger, J. W. Brooks and Mr. Enzer. A large crowd of the young soldier's former friends and associates were present.

Mr. Younger is survived by his widow and one child. He was 23 years old. Younger and Robinson were born the same year and killed within a few days of each other.

Nunnally—Mizell

News was received here this week of the marriage of Mr. A. Nunnally, the railroad agent at Hollow Rock, and Miss Floy Mizell, the daughter of George Mizell of Hollow Rock. The marriage occurred in Nashville last Saturday and the newly wedded couple left immediately for California and other western points of interest on a bridal trip. The groom is a leading business man of his home town, and the bride is one of the leading teachers of the county. They are fine people and their friends wish them a happy married life.

BRYAN TRAINS GUNS ON THE MIDDLEMAN

The Commoner Charges They Are Growing Bigger and Heavier all the Time

William Jennings Bryan, speaking in the base ball park in New Orleans, told the Interstate Farm Congress he had turned his attention to the middle man, "now that the octopus of the legalized saloon has been permanently banished."

"I say to you," spoke the commoner in indicting the middle man, "that the farmer's condition is worse today than it was 31 years ago when I entered congress. This year he sells at prices down and has to buy at prices up. They are getting the same prices for their wheat that they received 41 years ago. They get the same for their corn they did 21 years ago. They are paying 100 per cent more for what they have to buy."

"The middle men are growing bigger and heavier" all the time. They are organized. In every capital they have their lobbyists. I know that and met them when I was in public life myself."

Ownby—Pace

The Democrat failed to learn last week of the recent marriage of Mr. Justin Ownby to Miss Minnie Sue Pace, which was performed by Judge Wilson Enochs. The groom is the son of Dr. J. W. Ownby and the bride is the daughter of Mrs. Nona Pace, both residing in the Hollow Rock community. They are fine young people and their many friends wish for them much happiness in their married life. The Democrat extends congratulations.

Mrs. Dannie Smith

A special from Trezevant says: Mrs. Dannie Smith, 79, died at her home near Holly Leaf several miles west of this city, of infirmities incident to old age. The deceased was a member of the Cumberland Presbyterian church and is survived by her three sons and four daughters. Funeral and burial services were conducted by Rev. John Bryant, of McKenzie, and interment took place in the Pleasant Green burying ground.

METHODISTS MEET IN ANNUAL CONFERENCE

The Eighty-Second Session of the Memphis District to Be Held at McKenzie

The annual conference of the Memphis district of the Methodist church south will convene in McKenzie November 9. The opening sermon will be preached the night before.

The conference will be presided over by Bishop James Atkins, of Waynesville, N.C. This will be the eighty-second session of this body and the fourth consecutive session presided over by Bishop Atkins.

The Memphis conference includes West Tennessee and Western Kentucky, and has a membership of 79,165 lay members and 212 clergical. It contains 600 churches divided into eight districts, each being looked after by a presiding elder.

The annual conferences are always largely attended and McKenzie has no little task to take care of the body. But she will do so and do it to the satisfaction of the visitors.

$1,500.00 in Premiums Better Be a Winner

There isn't very much more to be said about the Carroll County Fair, for its splendid success is now assured. The catalog and premium list is now ready for distribution, and if you have not received a copy, a postcard addressed to the secretary will bring it to you at once. About fifteen hundred dollars worth of premiums will be given away, and it will be your fault if you fail to share in the distribution. 'Nuff said.

Get busy! Don't forget the dates—October 12-13-14-15. Four big days. Something doing all the time—both day and night. Join the smiling faces, partake of the cheerful influences, rest from your labors and cares, strengthen and expand your knowledge and enjoy the hospitality of the fair. Its all free. Bring your families and your friends, and spend together, your time at the fair. It will give you something to talk about and think about for a long time to come. A better, greater and finer fair than ever before. Every hour chuck full of something to be seen and remembered.

Wednesday will be grand opening and parade day. Thursday is soldiers' day, all world-war soldiers and those who wore the blue and the gray to join in the parade. One hundred young ladies expected in soldiers' parade. Friday is home-coming day, celebrating the One Hundredth Anniversary of Carroll County. Saturday is school parade day, all schools in the county urged to join in the parade. See catalog for the many splendid premiums offered to the Carroll county schools.

The night entertainments will be pleasing features of the fair. Wednesday night's entertainment will be given by the American Legion of McKenzie. Thursday night's entertainment will be given by the McMoresville Collegiate institute. Friday night's entertainment will be given by the Huntingdon High School. Saturday night's entertainment—well, that's a little secret, but you can count on lots of fun—better save back a little change for confetti, tin horns, balloons and other fun-making contraptions for Saturday night.

Don't miss a single day or night. Charming band music every day and night. Community singing and old fiddlers' contest every day, and the baby show, that occurs Saturday afternoon. Fancy riding and driving contests every day by old soldiers, young soldiers, old men, young men, married ladies, and young ladies. A bunch of sights worth seeking every day—you will be there!

W. L. NOELL, Sec.

Call Banker to Pulpit

The following special is sent up from Lexington:

Dr. I. N. Penick of the chair of Bible in Union University, Jackson, resigned the care of the Baptist church at Parsons Sunday night, which he has served several years twice a month. His resignation was made necessary by an urgent call to serve the church at Bells, Tenn. The Parsons church immediately called Rev. Joe Jennings, one of their own members, a banker lately ordained to the ministry, but he has deferred until a later date the matter of his acceptance.

Conyers—Fite

Mr. Gabe Conyers, who lives near Mt. Zion and Miss Merle Fite, of Atwood, were married at the home of the bride Wednesday afternoon, Rev. T. H. Davis, pastor of the Atwood Methodist church, saying the ceremony. The wedding was a quiet affair. Only a few special friends of the contracting parties being present. Mr. Conyers was accompanied by Claude Reeder and they drove through in a car, returning to the home of the groom that evening. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Conyers and there are only a few if any finer young men in the county. The bride is the lovely daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sid Fite and is greatly admired for her many charming traits of character. The union is a happy one, and the Democrat joins their host of friends in extending congratulations and well wishes.

Visits Paris Fair

Capt. Gordon Browning of Huntingdon was in the city on last Friday, taking in the county fair and renewing his acquaintance generally. He was accompanied by his famous German police dog, and drove through from his home town via auto.

Capt. Browning, undaunted by the defeat of a republican in the recent landslide, says that he is a candidate before the next democratic primary, and is going to build up his fences so that no republican can slip through the wires. Capt. Browning was highly entertained by the world war veterans during his stay in the city.—Paris Parisian.

CONGRESS MEETS

AFTER MONTH'S REST

Many Problems Facing Lawmakers as They Gather Again in Washington

Congress reassembled at noon last Wednesday after a recess since August 24. The law makers find a full program that will keep them busy the remainder of the extra session, and which may lapse into the regular December session.

Activity will first center in the senate where the tax revenue bill, the peace treaties, the anti-beer, railroad debt, and many other bills are to be considered. Some of these questions will take much time for consideration.

The house will not get down to business until October 4. The house will also have plenty to do and some lively times may be expected.

It looks like Harding may have trouble in holding his control of the majority. Members are growing restless for something to be doing more pleasing to their constituents.

ATWOOD MEETING A GREAT SUCCESS

Union Services Attract Much Interest—Large Number of Conversions

A union meeting of the Cumberland Presbyterians and Methodists of Atwood closed last week with fine results. Rev. W. J. McCoy, field centenary secretary of the Memphis conference, did the preaching, and gave out to the people some of the best and most practical and high standard preaching ever heard by the town.

The singing was conducted by Mr. Jewell Cole, of Milan, Tenn. He impressed the people that he is a fine type of Christian character and a good man to lead the gospel singing for religious services.

The services began the first Sunday in September. The Christian people of the town regardless of denomination, exhibited a fine spirit of co-operation and are rejoicing at the great good to the town and community by the conversion of a large number of people and the general uplift of standards of the people. Revs. J. E. Hicks of the Cumberland church and T. H. Davis of the Methodist church thank all who helped in the services and are pleased with results.

ALLEGED SHINER

KILLED IN RAID

Martin Police Chief Fired on Man Who Fled From Moon-Shine Raiders

Harvey Simmons, alleged moon-shiner, was killed Sunday by Tom Carney, chief of police at Martin, in a raid made on a distillery in Mount Pelia community.

Some of the citizens of Mount Pelia passed a place where the distillery was in operation in a storm cellar, a short distance from the public road. They notified the officers.

Sheriff Bullock, with several officers, among them being Chief of Police Carney, captured the still, together with mash and a small quantity of whisky. Simmons and a man named Crockett were taken as operators. Simmons ran after being taken and was shot and killed by Carney. Crockett was lodged in jail.

Carney claims he shot to scare the fellow and had no thought of killing him.

RYE QUALIFIES IN

CHANCELLOR'S RACE

The Ex-Governor Will Have no Opposition in the Democratic Party

Ex-Governor Tom C. Rye, of Paris, was the only candidate to qualify in the race for the Democratic nomination for chancellor in the eight division. Hon. Frank Bryant also from Paris, had announced his intention of making the race, but withdrew from the contest before the time to qualify. This left an open field to governor Rye and he will have no opposition in the democratic party.

Gov. Rye is a candidate for the office recently vacated by Judge J. W. Ross, who went to the federal bench. The place is being filled now by Chancellor Dennison, of Lexington, an appointee of Gov. Alf Taylor. Mr. Dennison will be the republican nominee for the post.

Gov. Rye is quite popular all over the division and will, no doubt, be elected by a good majority.
